THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

BRILLIANT CEREMONY AT ST. MARY'S THIS MORNING.

A Well-Known District Physician Takes a Bride-Travel Plans-Personal Notes.

The marriage this morning at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Church of Miss Ella Mercedes Soehngen and Dr. LouisKolipinski filled that edifice with the friends of the couple, and was a most interesting occasion, accompanied as it was with all the solemnity and beauty incident to a morning wedding in a Catholic church. The high altar was flluminated by myriads of waxen tapers and beautifully decorated with flowers. Palms and foliage plants placed about the sanctuary made an appropriate setting for the bridal group during the ceremony and the solemn nuptial mass which followed it. Rev. Father Roth, assistant pastor of the church, officiated, and also celebrated the mass, his assistants being Rev. Father Redding of Baltimore and Rev. Father Rosensteel of Forest Glen, Md. The couple occupied places within the sanctuary during the service, priedeux and chairs being at each side of the gates. The ushers who seated the large gathering of guests were Messrs. J. George Auth, Joseph Zegowitz, jr., Lawrence J. Mills and Dr. Carl J. Mers, with Dr. Henry Emil Kalsusowski as best man.

The bride came in church with her father, Mr. Andrew Soehngen, and at the altar railing was met by the groom and the best man. The bride's only attendant was Miss Louise Gaegler, the maid of honor.

The grouping of the bridal party in the brilliantly lighted sanctuary facing the reverend clergy made a memorable picture. As the bride approached the altar railing the last notes of the Lohengrin chorus sung by a quartet died away. During the ceremony the anthem "O Perfect Love" was rendered. During the nuptial mass parts of Kalliwoda's mass and Haydu's Third Mass were sung, and at the offertory Marzo's "Ave Maria." The recessional music was Mendelssohn's wedding march. The quartet was composed of Mrs Kitty Thompson-Berry, Miss Margaret Nolan-Martin, and Messrs. Al Fennell and Frank Rebstock, with Miss Jennie Glen-

The bride, who is a most accomplished young woman, a fine musician and linguist, was educated in the west and finished her musical training in well-known schools in the east. Her wedding dress was elegant as well as becoming, and was made of white silk mull over white taffeta. It was very elaborately trimmed with rows of gauze ribbon and ruffles of embroidered chiffon. A cluster of orange blossoms held her tulle veil. Her bouquet was of bride roses and lilies of the valley, and the superb diamond brooch worn was the gift of the groom. Miss Gaegler was daintily gowned in tucked white silk mousseline over white taffeta put together with fancy stitching. A white hat was worn and a bouquet of La France roses was the finishing touch to her pretty tollet.

The bridal party, relatives of the couple and the clergymen were afterward enter-tained at breakfast at the residence of Dr. Kolipinski, 631 I street, before the doctor and his bride left for a honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will give a large reception at their home.

The announcement of the coming mar-riage of Senator Frye of Maine and Miss Ellen May of Portland, printed in several morning papers today, is authoritatively denied. ACCIDENTALLY SHOT. Small Child the Victim of Reckless Gunners. A nine-year-old colored girl named Mary Mills, whose parents live in Blagden's alley, is a patient at the Homeopathic Hospital, suffering from a number of wounds of the arm and body. The wounds were inflicted, it is believed, by boys shooting at pigeons. About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the report of a weapon was heard. The child made an outcry, and a flock of pigeons raised from one of the yards and flew away. No time was lost in informing the police of the affair, and the wounded child was hurried to the hospital. An examination was made by the hospital surgeons, and the nature of the wounds indicated that they had not been made with ordinary shot. Detectives Mullen and Bauer were detailed on the case by Capt. Boardman, while Lieut. Byrnes assigned Precinct Detective Evans and Policeman Fortenay to work gerous.

The child talked freely about the affair. although she was unable to throw any light upon the shooting. One of the leaden missiles penetrated the abdomen, while a number of them entered the girl's arm.

LACK OF FACILITIES.

Complaint Filed by William Duncan of Ivy City. Wm. Duncan of Ivy City recently wrote o the Commissioners complaining of the improvements in that vicinity. H. N. Moss of the engineer department has submitted a regard to mud on the sidewalk that taking at the local cemetery. the lineal number of feet of sidewalk there is very much less of it covered with dirt than any of the cement sidewalk laid in the county during the past fiscal year. He states that the building improvements in Ivy City were made without any reference to grades, and the brick sidewalks laid a few years ago fit very well. Opposite the cut on Center street Mr. Moss says that both sides are covered with mud, but that it should be removed by the abutting property owners under the regulations governing the same. After consultation with the mended that the old plank sidewalk on Olivet street be removed and replaced with blue stone curb, laid flat.

Mr. C. B. Hunt, the computing engineer, states that the necessary orders have been given for the cleaning of Center street side-walk and for the replacing of the old board walk on Olivet street. He recommends that Mr. Duncan be informed of the action of the office, and that he be further informed that walks will be laid in such portions of Ivy City as may be requested by the majority of the property owners af

ALLEGED BUNCO GAME.

Fortunes Offered With Care of Beautiful Girl as Condition.

From Boston and Baltimore come reports of the recent operations in those cities of a syndicate of clever swindlers who evidently have their headquarters in Spain, with confederates in this country. The principals in the bunco game seem to be a fictitious priest, a prisoner and a beautiful girl, and the proposition of the operatraction. The would-be victim is offered a Spanish fortune of about $500,000 and to secure this the American is required to pay only $3,000 or thereabouts in American currency.

The plan of operating is unique. Some American gentleman of means is selected for the victim. He receives a letter from Spain, stating that an unknown relative of his in that country is held a prisoner because of political belief. This Spanish relative states that he is dying and that he has a beautiful daughter whom he wishes to American to take charge of, along with a secret fortune of about $500,000 concealed n an old trunk.

Negotiations are conducted through friendly priest, and before the beautiful ward and valuable trunks are forwarded the recipient of the effer is requested to send a sum of money amounting to about $3,000 to pay for certain necessary expenses incident to securing the girl and the fortune. Papers bearing Spanish seals and Spanish documents are sent to the wouldbe victim in order to impress him with the sincerity of the offer.

This scheme, it is said, has been worked with success year after year, and although hundreds fall to be trapped, yet many fall into the net of the swindlers and become contributors to the dishonest plan. The game is cleverly worked and the offer is tempting. About two years ago a wholesale attempt was made to fleece ten men out of money in and about Boston, but owing to an exposure at that time the plans of the schemers in Madrid, with their fictitious prisoner, priest and pretty maiden, fell to have altogether escaped the attention of this band of schemers, and possibly men in this city could tell a story of either successful or attempted swindle similar to those coming from Boston and Baltimore

UNDER HABEAS CORPUS. Attorneys for B. H. Butler Seek His Release From Custody.

In the case of B. H. Butler, colored, charged with the larceny of a diamond pin from a car of the Southern railway, while in North Carolina, and for whom a requithat state, hearing was set for today. When the matter was reached United States Attorney Gould explained to Justice Clabaugh that the papers had been returned to North Carolina for correction. A postponement until next week was asked.

In order to secure the release of the prisoner, pending final action by the court, his counsel filed a petition for writ of habeas corpus, and hearing therein was set for Friday, the 22d instant. Butler was given his freedom temporarily upon furnishing bond in the sum of $1,000. The requisition case will be determined the date mentioned.

DANIEL H. WHITESELL DEAD.

Union Veteran Who Was in Eleven

Engagements During Civil War. Daniel H. Whitesell, aged fifty-nine years, an employe in the pension office, died yesterday morning at his residence, 823 21st street northwest. His wife, Caroline F. nati, expects to enter the college of music in that city. Miss White is a member of the Metropolitan Baptist Church choir, and her friends regret that her absence is to be of considerable length.

Whitesell, and two children, Mrs. G. B. Rathfor of Buffalo, N. Y., who is now in the city, and an unmarried daughter, survive him. Mr. Whitesell had been in poor health for the past three years, his last health for the past three years, his last illness continuing seven weeks.

The funeral will take place from his late residence tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock, and at 9 o'clock the remains will be taken to St. Stephen's Catholic Church, where Rev. Father Caughey will read the solemn requiem mass. The interment will be made in the National cemetery at Arlington, where services will be conducted by members of the Burnside Post, G. A. R., of which Mr. Whitesell was a member.

Mr. Whitesell was born in Freemansburg. Pa. He enlisted in the Union army at the beginning of the civil war and served through eleven engagements in Company C of the 5th United States artillery. On the third day of the battle of Gettysburg, just before the end of that famous struggle, he was badly wounded. Upon the conclusion of the war he came to Washington and accepted a position in the quarter-master general's office. In 1872 Mr. White-sell left this city for Easton, Pa., where for many years he was engaged in the manufacture of cigars. He later removed to Harrisburg, Pa., where he was employed at the state capitol.

After leaving Harrisburg, Mr. Whitesell came to this city again, and for a time was employed in the census office, but he was later given a position in a division of the War Department. His last appointment was to the pension office, where he was employed at the time of his death, having served there nine years.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Nine-Year-Old Boy Causes Death of His Sister.

Information has reached here of a fatal accident below Forestville, Prince George's county, Md., in which Emily Garner, eight years old, was shot and killed by her nineyear-old brother, Charles, Mr. and Mrs. stead of shot. While the victim's injuries James Garner are the parents of the little ones. The family lives near Westphalia post office. The day of the tragedy Mrs. Garner, accompanied by the two children named, had gone to visit her sister, Mrs. Tomlinson, a short distance from the Gar-ner home. The elder folks had left the house, the two children remaining inside. In the course of their play they found a shotgun. Charles began handling the weapon, while Emily seated herself on a bed. In some manner the gun was dis-charged, the load of shot taking effect in the girl's head at close range, killing her instantly and tearing away a portion of her face. An investigation of the case was made by the authorities and a verdict of death by accident was returned. Undertaker Scott Armstrong took charge of the body and prepared it for burial. The funof the engineer department has submitted a report on the matter in which he says in Marlboro' and the interment was made
